Business Benefits

Visualiser - Interactive Dashboards

Visualiser is perfect for...

Scenario planning

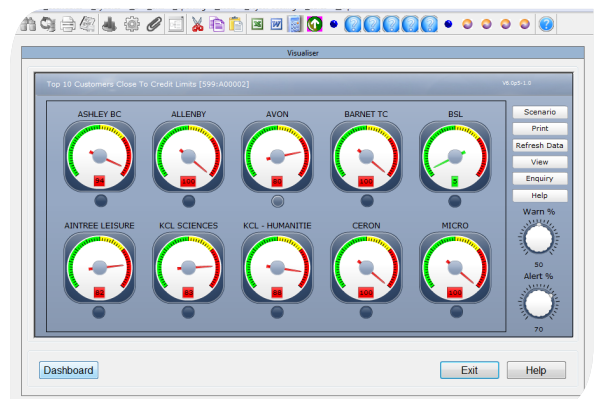

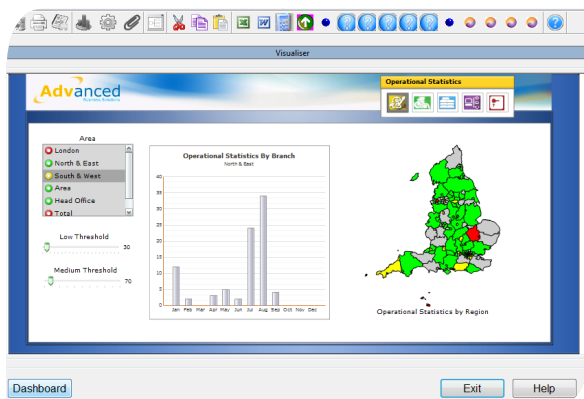

The interactive nature of Visualiser allows ad hoc scenario planning within each dashboard element. Sliding bars, gauges and data boxes can be incorporated into each dashboard to demonstrate immediately and graphically the impact of any potential change on the business KPI's. Being aware of how market conditions or internal changes could influence business performance allows organisations to be prepared for any eventuality.

Distributing key data

Unlike other presentation software which provide static tables or charts, Visualiser allows you to engage with your audience and keeps their attention through interactive data presentations. Visualiser enables you to transform data heavy spreadsheets and complex reports into clear, easy to understand and insightful presentations. A key benefit of Visualiser is the ability to communicate effectively with every member of your audience.

Creating traffic light warnings

Visualiser enables the user to set their own traffic light warning parameters on dashboard elements, allowing you to graphically highlight business performance, comparing one period to another, enabling you to make informed decisions quickly.
